Abstract: Under the authority of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, the DOE is responsible for ensuring the availability of isotopes for medical, industrial and research applications, meeting the nuclear material needs of other Federal agencies, and undertaking research and development activities related to development of nuclear power for civilian use. To meet these responsibilities, DOE maintains nuclear infrastructure capabilities that support various missions. Current estimates for the future needs of medical and industrial isotopes, plutonium-238, and research requirements indicate that the current infrastructure may soon be insufficient to meet the projected demands. DOE proposes to enhance these capabilities to provide for: (1) production of isotopes for medical and industrial uses, (2) production of plutonium-238 for use in advanced radioisotope power systems for future National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) space exploration missions, and (3) the Nation's nuclear research and development needs for civilian application.

This NI PEIS evaluates the environmental impacts of a No Action Alternative (maintaining status quo), four alternative strategies to accomplish this mission, and an alternative to permanently deactivate the Fast Flux Test Facility (FFTF), with no new missions. Alternatives 2, 3, and 4 also include permanent deactivation of FFTF. The alternatives are:

No Action

1. Restart FFTF at Hanford, Washington
2. Use only existing operational facilities
3. Construct one or two new accelerators
4. Construct a new research reactor
5. Permanently deactivate FFTF (with no new missions)

The Preferred Alternative is Alternative 2, Option 7, Use Only Existing Operational Facilities. DOE would reestablish domestic production of plutonium-238, as needed, using the Advanced Test Reactor in Idaho and the High Flux Isotope Reactor in Tennessee, and would process irradiated plutonium-238 targets at the Radiochemical Engineering Development Center in Tennessee. DOE would permanently deactivate FFTF under the Preferred Alternative.

Public Comments: The Draft NI PEIS was issued for public review and comment on July 21, 2000. The comment period ended on September 18, 2000, although late comments were considered to the extent practicable. Public hearings were held to obtain comments on the Draft NI PEIS in Oak Ridge, Tennessee; Idaho Falls, Idaho; Hood River and Portland, Oregon; Seattle and Richland, Washington; and Arlington, Virginia. All comments were considered by DOE in preparing the Final NI PEIS, which also incorporates any new information received since issuance of the Draft NI PEIS. In response to comments on the Draft NI PEIS and as a result of information that was unavailable at the time of the issuance of the Draft PEIS, the Final PEIS contains revisions and new information, indicated by a sidebar in the margin. Volume 3 contains the comments received during the public review period for the Draft NI PEIS and DOE's responses to these comments. DOE will use the analyses presented in the Final NI PEIS as well as other information, including public input, costs, nonproliferation impacts, schedules, technical assurance, and other policy and programmatic objectives, in preparing the Record of Decision for accomplishing expanded civilian nuclear energy research and development and isotope production missions in the United States, including the role of FFTF. DOE will issue the Record of Decision no sooner than 30 days after the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency publishes a notice of availability of the Final NI PEIS in the Federal Register.

Reader's Guide

Volume 3, the Comment Response Document, is organized into three chapters:

- Chapter 1 - Overview of the Public Comment Process and the Comment Response Document
- Chapter 2 - Written Comments and DOE Responses
- Chapter 3 - Oral Comments Presented at the Public Hearings and DOE Responses

These chapters are divided among the three books of Volume 3 as follows:

- Book 1 - Chapter 1 and Chapter 2 (pages 2-1 through 2-931)
- Book 2 - Chapter 2 (pages 2-932 through 2-1914)
- Book 3 - Chapter 2 (pages 2-1915 through 2-2344) and Chapter 3

Chapter 1, “Overview of the Public Comment Process and the Comment Response Document,” summarizes key issues raised during the comment period on the Draft NI PEIS. It also identifies major changes made to this NI PEIS after publication of the Draft in response to these comments and incorporates new information that was unavailable at the time of the issuance of the Draft NI PEIS.

Chapter 2, “Written Comments and DOE Responses,” provides a side-by-side display of the written comments received (full-text reproductions) and DOE’s responses. Individual comments are numbered in the margins of the comment document, and DOE responses to each numbered comment are provided on the right side of each page.

The comment document numbers in Chapter 2 are in ascending order but are not sequential. Each comment document was assigned a sequential log number as it was received. When the same comment document was submitted by many individuals, it was designated as a campaign. The campaigns were grouped together for the purpose of responding to comments, and do not appear in numerical order.

Chapter 3, “Oral Comments Presented at the Public Hearings and DOE Responses,” provides a side-by-side display of the oral comments presented at the public hearings and DOE’s responses. The speakers’ names appear alphabetically by hearing location. Commentors who submitted their oral presentations in writing will find their submittals and DOE’s responses in Chapter 2.

To Find a Specific Comment Document and DOE Response

Refer to the “List of Commentors” immediately following the Volume 3 Table of Contents. This list is organized alphabetically and contains the corresponding page number(s) to find the comment document. The public officials, organizations, and interest groups appear first, then individuals are listed. City and state government bodies are listed under “City of” or “State of.” Members of Congress are listed alphabetically under “Members of Congress.”

DOE has made a good faith effort to interpret the spelling of names that were either written on comments or were recorded on the telephone comment line.
